„TELEKI” means „TELEKI”. It is not a “racehorse stable”, neither an afternoon teaclub. Here not only highly gifted students but also contemplative advancers can find their place just as it happens in life. About 20 years ago a father shared the following opinion: “What is really good about this school is that students with mediocre skills are nonetheless respected and appreciated”. The majority of our students are admitted to Colleges and Universities, they find their place in all walks of life: Science, Culture and Economy. Many come back to our school as teachers, actually we have a saying: “There are three types of people: ex-, current-, and future students of Teleki”. We are proud that at present twelve Teleki graduates are employed at the school as teachers.”
